Brooks' Bucks/Clements' Co-Op/Allen's Allowance Store

Children can earn rewards by demonstrating good social and academic behaviors. This includes following directions, completing all work, helping someone, showing good citizenship and other behaviors that help keep our classroom a safe, welcoming, and fun academic environment. Children will keep track of their “classroom money” in a checkbook style ledger making notes of deposits, withdrawals, savings, and donations to “charities”. The system aligns with Common Core Social Studies Curriculum teaching children about economies. Every two weeks, children can spend their “money” on items or save them for future purchases. They can also participate in an auction for larger prizes. Donations are GREATLY appreciated to make this system a success.
